Serving your success

We ensure the maximum availability of your production line – along the entire lifecycle

While you are focusing on the profitable and sustainable film production, we make sure your equipment & processes are available – 24/7 throughout the life span of your production line.

A fast and competent service for you is guaranteed by the extra mile our local teams walk, close to your production base. Your needs to smoothly operate the film production line all day and night are also supported by our experts remotely.

Your daily challenges to enter new markets, reduce the resource consumption, enhance the film quality and ensure the overall efficiency are our key drivers. Gaining from the unique developments performed by our sister company Brückner Maschinenbau, we offer a vast range of upgrades for your production line along the entire life cycle.

Your quests to conveniently get a reliable and quick supply of spare parts, competent refurbishment of key components or easy access to maintenance plans and instructions are vital to optimize our service packages. Supported by our unique Brückner ONE digital service platform – your teams will get all important information at any time, at any place, using any digital device at their fingertips.

Protecting all kinds of goods and providing technical innovations for a sustainable life

World-class machines – first-class service

Creative, innovative, globally present

Tapping into the vast resources of Brückner Maschinenbau and teaming up with many experts around the world, we ensure the technology, know-how and the manpower you need to get the best performance of your film-stretching line.

We are proud to extend our lifecycle services also to all Non-Brückner film-stretching lines in full scale.

Brückner Maschinenbau is the world's leading supplier of production lines for manufacturing high-quality monoaxially and biaxially stretched films. The lines guarantee efficient, profitable, reliable production of the widest range of flexible films, which are used as high-quality packaging material or for special technical applications, such as capacitors, battery separators or screens and displays.

The range of topics offered by Brückner Maschinenbau includes planning, building and commissioning complete production lines as well as flexible plant engineering packages and all process and machine developments for film production. Furthermore, they include consultation during project initiation (e.g. feasibility studies) and financing solutions.

Important future issues, such as electro-mobility, intelligent and recyclable packaging and sustainability in film production, are continuously driven forward at our own, globally unparalleled Technology Center in Siegsdorf.

No matter which ideas film producers or raw material suppliers have in mind, "exotic" applications or new processes: We are able to offer the right technology, based on intensive R&D.

Stretching the limits – not only a claim, but also a conviction

“With Brückner Servtec’s most helpful support, we have saved a lot of money. As a ‘saying’ goes, saving customer’s money is just like saving money for yourself.”

Manager Purchase, Gettel Group China

How we support you on your way to sustainability

Sustainability is one of the main challenges to our industry. Therefore, we focus on solutions for existing lines to increase the production efficiency, enlarge the life cycle of the line or make the film production more environmentally friendly.

Our products and services are especially designed to further decrease the use of raw material, to lower energy consumption and other operating resources for film stretching lines. Moreover, we support you with producing recyclable packaging, e.g., by using bio-polymers or produce mono-material structure enabling a circular economy worldwide.

We are aware of our responsibility. That's why we work every day on new, longterm solutions for a better future.

Your step into digitalization

The entire Brückner ONE system is unique in the BO-industry. It utilizes the inherent benefits of digitalization for vast information at your fingertips, at anytime and anywhere at any digital device. It strongly and conveniently supports modern biax-film production and services to increase production efficiency, process reliability and uptime optimization.

Modernization

New products – enhanced life time

Managing the ever changing demands of your markets may require you to modify your line's configuration significantly. We are experts in upgrading your assets with latest technology and enabling it to produce recyclable mono-material structures or improved barriers utilizing ultra-thin in-line coating layers.

Enhancing the life time of your valuable film production lines might need profound upgrades by new electrical control systems or newest line drive modules. By this, latest state-of-art software is applied to simplify lines operation, to increase safety and to reduce energy consumption.

Your aging production lines may become valuable and profitable if we modify them for different film types and polymers serving your smaller volume specialty markets.

“We want to achieve sustainable production.”

We are the Brückner Group

Long-term thinking – the key to success

The Brückner Group has been family-owned since it was founded in 1960. This has shaped the group to the present day and is reflected in particular in its long-term strategic orientation – a significant success factor for our customers and ourselves in the past and for the future.

The Brückner Group members are market and technology leaders for machines, systems and services in their global niche markets. But we are also more than that: we provide solutions that make our customers successful. Brückner Maschinenbau, Brückner Servtec, Kiefel and PackSys Global form the foundations of the group. While exploiting their advantages, such as a strong worldwide presence, the transfer of technological expertise and their leading position in a globalised world, they act independently and can concentrate on their specific markets. This allows each company to focus on meeting its customers' individual requirements and on delivering complete customer satisfaction.

The group has more than 2,900 employees and over 21 locations in 14 countries worldwide. It is led by the strategic management holding, Brückner Group GmbH.

Dr. Axel von Wiedersperg
Managing Director/CEO

Maximilian Schneider
Managing Director/CFO

Brückner Group GmbH defines the group-wide long-term strategy and provides the individual companies with a strategic direction. It is also responsible for group merger and acquisition activities. Besides setting standards and guidelines in order to ensure transparency and compliance, the management holding supports group members by providing a variety of central services as well as expertise in a number of specialist areas.

Plastic recycling all over the world: our help is well received.

Yes, we care

Proactive initiative as an innovation leader

YES,
WE CARE

We as the Brückner Group are ready to act responsibly! That is why we launched the “Yes, we care” initiative – already years ago, when sustainability issues were not yet on everyone’s lips.

The project is both a commitment to our own responsibility in terms of the circular economy and sustainability and a promise to the employees in all companies of the Brückner Group. We want to act together, develop aspirations, drive innovations and contribute solutions.

Don't stop plastic – but plastic pollution!

“Reduce – Reuse – Recycle” must not remain a slogan for us, but ought to be filled with life.

As a technology and market leader in various areas of the plastics and packaging industry, we have the opportunity to contribute our visions for the future and our engineering spirit for more sustainability.

“Yes, we care” is our promise

- for an emphatically sustainable orientation of all activities
- for investment in a sustainable future with plastics
- for knowledge transfer for a better understanding of the need for and the advantages of plastics
- to educate people on the correct use of plastics.

In short: We want to be part of the solution!

“Yes, we care” helps

When we launched “Yes, We Care”, one of the priorities was to support corresponding organisations.

We decided on the ASASE Foundation, a project in the plastic-polluted Ghanaian capital Accra, and Buy Food with Plastic, which enables people in India, Nicaragua and Ghana to pay for hot meals with collected plastic bottles. Brückner Group supports both organisations financially.
